November 4, 1922. Continuing on the above matter, Operative proceeded to the Hudson Terminal and there boarded a train for New Brunswick, N.J.

Upon arrival at New Brunswick, N.J., Operative proceeded to the Middlesex Lunchroom. While in the Middlesex Lunchroom, Operative observed a Police Officer enter and join a newspaper reporter, and Operative overheard the following conversation:- "Well, what do you think about it?" The Officer answered, saying, "Oh, there will be something doing this week." The reporter then said, "What do you think?" The Officer then replied, "Well, I don't know, but I do know that they intend to pick on somebody." Upon conclusion of the last remark, the Officer left the lunchroom. The reporter then turned to the waiter and said, "Them fellows like to keep things to themselves."

After a short time Operative left the above mentioned Lunchroom, and proceeded to the railroad station and joined Garry Kenny. While at the railroad station a man entered, and Garry Kenny said, "Do you see that man, that's Kirby, the Constable, they say it was him that got young Hayes after Schneider told the story." Garry advised Operative that a number of people were sore on Kirby.

At about 9 p.m. several reporters passed through the station and while doing so, remarked to Garry, "Well we're going down to the City." Garry replied, "There is not much doing these days." One of the reporters then said, "There will be something doing next week, we will have a busy week." Garry then said, "Who is it?" The reporter then replied, "I don't just know yet."

Operative remained about the railroad station until 10.30 p.m. then proceeded to his room and discontinued.

er up to her mouth as if to say, "Keep quiet." After receiving her change Mrs. Gibson proceeded upstairs. A few minutes later Charlotte Mills came into the railroad station and proceeded upstairs. Up on the platform Mr. Mason, Mrs. Gibson and Miss Mills joined and boarded the 3.16 p.m. train for New York City.

Upon departure of the 3.16 p.m. train Operative again proceeded to the street level of the station and there noticed several reporters in conversation, and overheard one of them to remark:- "It would be a good stunt for some of us to go over and see Mrs. Hall, and while interviewing her fire several shots and scream." All the reporters there then thought that that would be a good idea, but one suggested, "Why not have Mrs. Hall go up to where the bodies were found and pull that stunt, there would be the place to do it, then we could tell how she acted." One of them then said, "Well we will see if that can be done." Another reporter came in from the street and informed the reporters who had been described as being in conversation, concerning the three persons who took the train, saying, "That means something." Another reporter remarked that Mrs. Hall's cousin is one of the Officials, Beekman is his name, that's why the local Officials didn't do anything, but after Election this thing will go quiet, and that's all there's to it.

At about 5 p.m. Operative left the railroad station and strolled about Town until 10.30 p.m., then Operative proceeded to the railroad station and boarded a train for New York City, and discontinued.
